

Contributory negligence recent cases and their practical relevance

Thursday, 9 December 2021
12:00 - 13:00

After looking at the general principles relating to contributory negligence this webinar reviews recent decisions in relation to contributory negligence.

This webinar, presented by experienced and knowledgeable barrister Gordon Exall will cover:

- Where contributory negligence has been established
- Where allegations of contributory negligence have not been successful
- How claimant's have responded to allegations of contributory negligence
- The "reverse allegation of contributory negligence" – using allegations of contributory negligence against the defendant.

Gordon Exall was called to the Bar in 1991 having originally qualified and practised as a solicitor. He practices from Kings Chambers.

He works almost wholly in the area of personal injury litigation and in the law relating to civil procedure, limitation and costs. He has a particular interest in issues relating to damages, evidence and the drafting of special damages schedules.

Gordon is a former executive committee member of APIL and has lectured widely for APIL and CPIL on personal injury and procedure topics. Gordon is the author of written Personal Injury Practice Notes (Cavendish); The APIL Guide to Fatal Accidents (4th edition); the 14th edition of Munkman and Exall on Damages, and Periodical Payments the New Law. He also writes the section on limitation for the APIL loose-leaf.

Gordon has appeared in several of the leading cases relating to procedure, service of the claim form and the assessment of damages.

Gordon writes the "Civil Litigation Brief", one of the most widely read sites on litigation, evidence and procedure.

In his spare time Gordon plays guitar and mandolin in a rock band (which has performed at APIL conferences). He has four children and lives in York.
