

Running a brain injury case - the fundamentals

VIRTUAL EVENT - LIVE STREAMED Friday, 18 March 2022

An essential introduction for any practitioner wishing to handle a case involving brain injury.

This one-day course will help you address the difficulties of representing people with injuries that might not always be visible but which can have a devastating affect on their personality and behaviours, with severe consequences for them and everyone around them.

Many aspects will be covered including*:

- How to recognise a brain injury and how it overlaps with other injuries
- The first interview with the client and/or their family, including funding the claim
- Dealing with insurers and defendants from the outset
- Discharge planning, NHS input and therapies
- Benefits, housing and accomodation
- Social services and dealing with employers
- Rehabilitation and case management
- Mental capacity and Court of Protection
- Choosing your experts, including counsel
- Starting proceedings, costs budgeting and the multi-track code
- Discreet aspects of liability e.g. seatbelts, crash helmets
- Court approval, provisional damages and periodical payments
- Financial and investment advice, post settlement and the long term

“Better quality courses and speakers - always prefer APIL.”

“I always go on APIL courses where possible because I am more confident in the quality of the training and the speakers.”
