

How to use the Ogden Tables: a practical approach

Friday, 13 March 2020
13:00 - 14:00

Following the success of "How to use the Ogden Tables: a practical approach", Malcolm Underhill is back to deliver further training and insight, to maximise the benefit of using the Ogden Tables and understanding the courts attitude to them. Once again, the webinar is directed to those new to personal injury particularly to multi track work.

The focus of this webinar, on using the Ogden Tables, will build on the last webinar, to address calculating future loss of earnings claims, likely challenges from the defendant in their counter schedule and the possible outcomes from the court, including an analysis of a range of cases to illustrate a number of scenarios. There will also be illustrations of the courts response to the new method of calculating Smith v Manchester claims.

Illustrations of future care claims, including split multipliers will also be provided

Technical requirements

You will need access to the internet on your PC, plus audio speakers. If you do not have access to speakers you will be able to receive audio via a phone line. Further information on how to log on to the webinar will be sent via email a week before the event.

Malcolm Underhill is a partner at IBB solicitors, in West London.

Having begun his career in the insurance industry he has a broad range of experience. He is a member of the Law Society's Personal Injury Accreditation Scheme and fellow of APIL.

He is co-ordinator of APIL damages special interest group.

He focuses on serious head injury and child abuse work

Malcolm is listed as a leader in his field by Chambers UK Legal Directory. He trains personal injury solicitors around the UK on behalf of the Association of Personal Injury Lawyers.