

Scope of duty and remoteness of damage after Meadows v Khan

Tuesday, 27 July 2021

10:00 - 11:00

The Supreme Court in Meadows v Khan have given guidance on the proper approach to claims based in negligence when there are issues about the scope of duty or remoteness of damage

This webinar will:

- Explain the background
- Identify the legal issues arising
- Explore the guidance given by the Supreme Court which may need to be applied to all negligence claims in the future
- Explain how this fits around the existing law on causation and what that means, in particular, for clinical negligence claims
- Help to ensure that claims, applying the law as now clarified, are properly investigated and presented

Technical requirements

You will need access to the internet on your PC, plus audio speakers. If you do not have access to speakers you will be able to receive audio via a phone line. Further information on how to log on to the webinar will be sent via email a week before the event.

John McQuater qualified as a solicitor in 1983 and is a partner at Atherton Godfrey, Doncaster, where he is head of litigation with overall responsibility for the personal injury, clinical negligence, employment and dispute resolution teams.
