

Surveillance: the challenge faced by claimants

Thursday, 14 June 2018

13:00 - 14:00

This brand new webinar will bring you fully up to date on surveillance and the challenges that claimants face in higher value multi-track cases.

This webinar will cover:

- An overview of the current state of the law
- Impact of recent decisions
- Best tactical approach to adopt
- Impact of recent cases on the law concerning "fundamental dishonesty"
- How to respond when surveillance evidence is disclosed"

Technical requirements

You will need access to the internet on your PC, plus audio speakers. If you do not have access to speakers you will be able to receive audio via a phone line. Further information on how to log on to the webinar will be sent via email a week before the event.

Speaker - Colin Ettinger

Colin Ettinger is a solicitor and partner with Irwin Mitchell. He is head of their personal injury department at their London office and he has been practising personal injury litigation for over 35 years. Colin is a past president of APIL.

Colin is a member of the law society's personal injury panel. He is also a senior fellow of APIL. He also holds APIL accreditation for spinal injuries and brain injuries, and has authority to assess others applying for these accreditations.

Colin is a member of the personal injury panel senior fellow of APIL. He was re-elected back on to the APIL Executive Committee in 2013. He was also made an honorary research fellow at the School of Law at the University of Lancaster in 2007 for his 'outstanding contribution to personal injury lawyering and the pursuit of justice'.

He is a regular lecturer on issues concerning personal injury cases including damages, aspects of health and safety at work, and, has lectured extensively on rehabilitation.

In September 2015 Colin was appointed the visiting professor for the University of Law for personal injury. Colin is regarded in the Chambers and legal 500 directories as a leading personal injury lawyer. He has received many plaudits in these directories including being described as a "claimant's champion." And "one of the leading personal injury lawyers of his generation."